Impressive and stylish projections on buildings, a renewing way of communicating. For those who want to carry out a message in a striking and visually attractive way with guaranteed exposure: 3D Projection on buildings is the communication tool of 2009, and what an impact! NuFormer Digital Media develops high-skill 3D video mapping projections. These 3D projections will be custom-made to fit any specific building and will be exposed by a battery of powerful projectors.

I believe there will be no desktop projector in near future, projector is be developed into two categories, those for huge screen mapping and those small in size for personal carrying with mobility, take peek at the blog post I wrote weeks ago on personal projector.
